After-Dinner Speaking

Judging Rules and Guidelines

The After-Dinner speech generally is designed to entertain or to satirize. It should be structured as any speech would be and not as a monologue or stand-up comic routine. While it is basically humorous, the After-Dinner speech can offer some serious thought or comment on its subject.

a. Contest requirements

1. The After-Dinner speech may be on any subject, provided it is in good taste, but it is usually designed to entertain the listener. The speaker may have a subject of light or semi-serious nature, but he/she should project a light touch of satire or an amusing representation of truth.
2. It should not be a monologue or collection of jokes, but a well-organized speech.
3. The maximum time limit is eight (8) minutes with a 30 second "grace" period. Penalties will be imposed for exceeding the time limit.
4. The speech must be memorized.
5. The speech must be the original work of the student. No more than 150 words may be quoted from another source. Any quoted material and ideas which are not original with the student should be cited in the speech.
6. Contestants are required to submit a copy of their speech to the Tournament Director prior to the contest with a signed statement verifying the originality of the work.
7. Visual aids are prohibited.

b. Judging criteria

After-Dinner Speaking will be judged on the subject of the speech and its development. Organization of the speech will be considered as well as the general communication skill of the contestant. Among these skills are a good, clear speaking voice and natural gestures. The originality and appropriateness of the topic and the overall effect of the speech will be considered as well.

Judging Rules and Guidelines

- a. Contest requirements
 1. Literature
 - (a) Literature for performance will be from published, printed novels, short stories, plays or poetry. The material should be of recognized literary merit.
 - (b) Recorded material that is not printed and published is prohibited.
 - (c) Material from the Internet that is not printed and published in any other media is prohibited.
 - (d) A student may not use a cutting from a work of literature that the student used in THSSDL competition in any previous contest year.
 - (e) The original published source of any selections used must be immediately available at the tournament, as well as a complete script of the cutting.
 - (f) The literature may not be the student's own work.
 - (g) Monologues are acceptable.
 2. Time
 - (a) The maximum time limit is ten (10) minutes with a 30 second "grace" period.
 - (b) The introduction to the selection is considered part of the overall time limit.
 - (c) Penalties will be imposed for exceeding the time limit.
 3. Performance
 - (a) Vocal, facial, and bodily expressions may be used as long as they do not call attention to the interpreter as a performer, detract from the meaning of the material, or constitute acting or impersonation.
 - (b) Evaluation will be based on the student's ability to reveal insight into the mood and implications of the selection, projection of the dramatic qualities, and success in creating a uniform scene or story.
 - (c) Literature will be performed from memory.
- b. Judging criteria

Oral Interpretation of Dramatic Literature will be evaluated on the choice of selection - its appropriateness and literary merit and the challenge it offers the performer. The contestant will also be judged on the development of the character(s) within the scene and the effective use of dramatic timing. Vocal and physical control, as well as the overall effect of the selection, will also be considered.

Duet Acting

Judging Rules and Guidelines

The emphasis in these events is on the student's ability to develop and sustain a character in a short cutting from a play. An introduction should be included with each entry to set the mood for the selection and to give any necessary background material.

a. Contest requirements

1. Literature

- (a) Two actors will present a selection or cutting from a published, printed play of recognized literary merit.
- (b) Each of the 2 performers may play one or more characters.
- (c) Both performers should participate in the memorized introduction.

2. Time

- (a) The maximum time limit is ten (10) minutes with a 30 second "grace" period.
- (b) The introduction to the selection and performance is considered part of the overall time limit. Both actors should participate in the introduction.
- (c) Penalties will be imposed for exceeding the time limit.

3. Performance

- (a) Costumes and stage makeup may not be used.
- (b) A maximum of two (2) hand props per team may be used (i.e. a book, letter, fan, etc.) and one (1) stage prop per performer (i.e. stool, table, etc.), but other may be pantomimed. Penalties will be imposed for the use of more than the specified number.
- (c) Literature will be performed from memory.

b. Judging criteria

Duet Acting will be evaluated on the choice and appropriateness of the selection, the team's general acting ability, which includes such factors as understanding and development of the character, and physical control, including the blocking of the scene, vocal control, teamwork and believability.

 - (f) Vocal, facial, and bodily expressions may be used as long as they do not detract from the meaning of the material. Movement is acceptable and may include standing, stepping, bending, pivoting, stooping, kneeling, turning, and/or changing positions. Excessive movement is discouraged. Movement that detracts from the meaning and content of the written piece of literature should be considered excessive.
- b. Judging criteria

Duo interpretation will be judged on the choice of selection - its appropriateness and literary merit and the challenge it offers the performers. The contestants will also be judged on their abilities to interpret together on the development of the persona(e) within the selection, and on their good use of dramatic timing. Vocal and physical control, as well as the overall effect of the selection, will be considered.

Evaluation will be based on the students' ability to work together in the interpretation of the selection, as well as their abilities to reveal their insight into the mood and implications of the selection. The students' projection of the dramatic qualities and their success in creating a uniform scene or story should be considered.

Extemporaneous Speaking

Judging Rules and Guidelines

In this event, the student demonstrates his knowledge of a wide range of topics, mostly dealing with current events, and the ability to speak without a prepared speech or notes.

A. Contest Requirements

The maximum time limit for speaking is seven (7) minutes. No notes are allowed during the presentation.

1. The Topics
 - (a) There will be a pool of at least fifteen (15) current event questions. Each round will use a different pool of at least fifteen (15) questions.
 - (b) The topics must be in the form of a question. The topics will be taken from standard periodicals (including but not limited to Time, Newsweek, US News and World Report) during the current school year.
 - (c) After each round all topics used, as well as those rejected, are to be destroyed, so that no slips will be available for improper use. A new set of topics is to be used for the next round.
2. The Draw (conducted by tournament officials not the judge)

Thirty minutes before the contest is to begin, the first speaker will draw three (3) topics, and within one minute choose one topic, and return the other two topics. The other contestants will draw in like manner, in the order of speaking, at intervals of eight (8) minutes. The contestant must keep his topic slip and give it to the judge.
3. Preparation
 - (a) The contestant will withdraw and prepare a speech without consultation and without reference to prepared notes.
 - (b) Students may have published books, magazines, newspapers, journals, internet news services or articles from these sources (original or photocopied in their entirety). A topical index without annotation may be present. No other materials will be allowed in the prep room. Prepared extemp speeches, out lines, and handbooks are barred from the extemp prep room.
4. The Speech
 - (a) The maximum time limit for speaking is seven (7) minutes with a 30 second "grace" period.
 - (b) No notes are allowed during the presentation.
 - (c) Penalties will be imposed for exceeding the time limit.
 - (d) During the speech, the speaker will receive hand signals from a timekeeper.

b. Judging criteria

The contestant will be evaluated on his/her ability to organize and answer the question. He/she will also be judged on general knowledge of the topic area and on use of this knowledge to directly answer the question. Utilization of speaking time should also be considered. Communication skills -- a good, clear voice, natural gestures and movement, etc. -- are also very important.

Judging Rules and Guidelines

THSSDL Rules for Impromptu

Impromptu

Impromptu is a limited prep event in which the speaker prepares and delivers a speech based on a drawn topic. The speaker demonstrates an ability to prepare a well-organized speech in a limited time. The speech is not a monologue or stand-up comic routine or a “canned speech”. The student further demonstrates the ability to speak without a fully prepared speech and notes. The speech may be serious and/or humorous, but must reflect the student’s ability to organize and use communication and public speaking skills.

a. Contest requirements

1. The Topics

- (a) Topics can be from various subjects (including but not limited to quotations, song lyrics, lists of words, historical figures, etc.).
- (b) A new pool of at least nine (9) topics will be used for each round.

2. The Draw

- (a) The judge will run the draw in the classroom.
- (b) The speaker will draw three (3) topics and choose one on which to speak. The other topics are returned to the pool of topics for that round.
- (c) The speaker has a total of thirty (30) seconds to choose a topic on which to speak.
- (d) After the speaker has chosen a topic, prep and speaking time will begin.

3. Preparation

- (a) The student may use up to, but not exceed, four (4) minutes of the event’s total seven (7) minutes to formulate their speech. However, the speaker may begin speaking at any point after time begins.
- (b) No research or source materials, including electronic retrieval devices may be consulted during preparation.
- (c) The speaker may make notes while preparing the speech, but notes may not be used during the speech.

4. The Speech

- (a) The student must speak for a minimum of three (3) minutes.
- (b) The speaker may not exceed a total time of seven (7) minutes with a 30 second “grace” period.
- (c) Penalties will be imposed for exceeding time limits.
- (d) Time signals will be given to the contestant during the prep time and the speaking time.

b. Judging Criteria

The contestant will be evaluated on his/her ability to organize and deliver a clear and concise speech based upon the drawn topic. The contestant will also be judged by his/her original and creative approach to the drawn topic. Utilization of prep and speaking time should be considered, as well as communication skills- a good, clear voice, natural gestures and movement, etc. – are also very important.

Informative Speaking

Judging Rules and Guidelines

The Informative Speech is an original speech designed to explain, define, describe or illustrate a particular subject. The speech must be the original work of the student including research, organization and preparation.

A. Contest Requirements

1. The general purpose of the speech is for the audience to gain understanding and/or knowledge of a topic.
2. The maximum time limit is ten (10) minutes with 30 second "grace" period. Penalties will be imposed for exceeding the time limit.
3. Informative speeches must be memorized.
4. The speech must be the original work of the student and not used by the contestant during a previous contest season. No more than 150 words may be quoted from another source. Any quoted material and ideas which are not original with the student should be cited in the speech.
5. Contestants will be required to submit a copy of their speech to the Tournament Director prior to the contest with a signed statement verifying originality of the work. The quoted material must be identified.
6. The use of audio/visual aids is optional. If used, the audio/visual aids should enhance, supplement, or support the message rather than distract from the overall effectiveness of the presentation.
 - a. During the presentation, no electronic equipment is permitted. Electronic equipment is defined as any object requiring an electrical cord, battery, or solar power to operate it (projectors, cell phones, radios, iPads, computers, etc.)
 - b. The use of live animals or any additional people as visual aids is not allowed during the speech.
 - c. Items of dress put on and/or removed for illustration during the course of the presentation are considered costumes and may not be used.
 - d. Visual aids may not violate policies as dictated by local and state law (weapons, drugs, etc.)
 - e. The host school is not responsible for providing any facilities, equipment, including tables, chairs, or easels, or assistance in a contestant's use of visual aids.
 - f. Expedient set up and take down of aids is expected.
 - g. If a visual aid displays published pictorial material, the source must be included in the text of the script, but it does not need to be cited orally.

B. Judging Criteria

The Informative Speech will be judged on the basis of the quality of the writing--organization, topic development, evidence and support, and originality of thought. Effective speeches provide new information or perspectives on a topic, including those that are widely known. It will also be judged on the speaker's delivery--good vocal and physical control, an expressive voice, natural gestures, and use of audio/visual aids, if used, to enhance the communication of the message.

INTERPRETERS' THEATRE is an activity in-group interpretation. The style of the performance is based on the traditions of oral interpretation with emphasis placed on the literature. Movement and the creation of stage pictures by the interpreters are permitted. Interpreters' Theatre is presented in a different form from conventional theatre and should not serve as a substitute. In conventional theatre, a "representational" type of performance is used: the actors "become" the characters they portray; and realistic settings are used. In Interpreters' Theatre, a "presentational" style of performance is used: the artists "suggest" characters, scenes and situations. The dramatization is in the audience's mind.

Contest requirements

Presentation shall be from a script developed from published short stories, song lyrics, novels, and/or collections of prose and/or poetry. Scripts may be organized around a central theme. Presentations may not be from plays. Major changes to the literature, including rewriting or embellishing is prohibited. Minor changes for the purpose of maintaining a logical, dramatic flow are allowed. Original or unpublished for the purposes of brief transitions between literature selections is allowed.

An introduction and transitions may be used to clarify the meaning and enhance the understanding of the literature. Introductions and transitions may be original.

The time limit is 25 minutes total, which includes set up, performance, and strike. Performances running longer will be penalized and/or disqualified.

All introductions or explanations will be counted as part of the overall time. e. Cast size is designated as three (3) or more.

The use of manuscript(s) is optional.

Performers may change locations on stage; however, excessive interaction between characters is discouraged. An offstage focus should be maintained by the performers when portraying characters.

Participants may use uniformity of dress or subtle costuming if deemed necessary.

The number of cast members equals the number of hand props that may be used. The number of cast members equals the number of set pieces that may be used.

The use of music, sound effects and equipment is optional. All such equipment shall be provided by the competing school.

Judging criteria:

The judges shall sit apart from one another, and without consultation, enter an evaluation of each presentation taking into consideration the following essentials:

Selection, adaptation, and suitability of the material to Interpreters' Theatre. The integrity of the literature must be maintained.

The physical arrangement of the performers. The unity of the performance.

How well the cast uses scripts, if used.

The communicative skills — vocal projection and voice control.

The judges shall also consider the overall effectiveness of the production and its appropriateness for Interpreters' Theatre. Judges shall rank and rate each entry. Judges should not place any two casts in the same rank.

ONE-ACT PLAY is a contest of the production skills of the traditional play and involves all the elements present in any good theatrical experience: good acting, staging and interpretation of the author's words. Set and costumes will be considered secondary to the production.

1. Contest requirements

- (a) The director must certify at the time of entry in the District Contest that permission has been obtained to perform the play or a portion of the play and that all royalties have been paid. The director will list the publisher of the One-Act Play entry here applicable on the entry form. Only published plays may be used.
- (b) Before competition at the State Tournament, the directors of all district winners that advance will also certify that the royalty for the performance at the state level has been paid.
- (c) Presentation must be a one-act play, an act of a longer play, or a cutting from a long play.
- (d) The time limit is 45 minutes total, which includes set up, performance and strike. Plays running longer will be penalized and/or disqualified.
- (e) Plays may be preceded by an explanation of not over three (3) minutes that is counted as part of the overall time.
- (f) Plays may be humorous or serious in nature.

2. Judging criteria

The One-Act Play will be evaluated on the choice of the play and on its appropriateness to a One-Act Play contest and to high school performers. The overall direction and interpretation of the play as well as the staging will be considered. Other elements of the production to be evaluated are the individual performers and how well each actor seems to understand and develop his character, the team work, or the working of an ensemble, and the overall effectiveness of the play.

- (a) Judges will sit apart from one another, and without consultation, enter an evaluation of each presentation on a basis of 100%, taking into consideration the following essentials:
 - (1) Acting: characterization, interpretation, pantomime, tempo and teamwork
 - (2) Diction: audibility of voice, purity of enunciation, flexibility of tone
 - (3) Direction: stage grouping, entrances, exits, choice of play, choice of cast
- (b) Judges will be instructed to disregard scenery in making their decision.
- (c) Judges will rank and rate each entry, being careful not to rank any two casts the same. Each judge will then nominate, in rank order of preference, ten (10) performers for the all-star cast, said selection being based on outstanding individual performances in the contest as a whole. Ballots should then be signed and delivered to the One-Act chairperson.

Original Oratory

Judging Rules and Guidelines

The Original Oratory is a serious speech, generally persuasive in nature, on any subject of interest to the student. The speech must be the original work of the student including research, organization and preparation.

a. Contest requirements

1. Orations should be on a worthy and dignified subject delivered in a direct, earnest and sensible fashion. Such speeches are designed to persuade or move the will of an average audience.
2. The maximum time limit is ten (10) minutes with a 30 second “grace” period. Penalties will be imposed for exceeding the time limit.
3. Orations must be memorized.
4. The speech must be the original work of the student. No more than 150 words may be quoted from another source. Any quoted material and ideas which are not original with the student should be cited in the speech.
5. Contestants will be required to submit a copy of their speech to the Tournament Director prior to the contest with a signed statement verifying originality of the work.
6. Visual aids are prohibited.

b. Judging criteria

Original Oratory will be judged on the basis of the quality of the writing — organization, topic development, evidence and support and originality of thought. It will also be judged on the speaker's delivery— good vocal and physical control, an expressive voice, natural gestures and a persuasive style. All of these influence the total effect of the speech.

Pantomime

Judging Rules and Guidelines

a. Contest requirements

1. Pantomime is a silent, solo category, the performer may play as many roles as desired within the time limit.
2. It is not an improvisation, but a prepared and rehearsed performance.
3. It may be classic mime (birth-life-death cycle) or a single story mime (published or from the contestant's own imagination). It should be a silent commentary on human events. Competitors must give proper credit to the author of the selection.
4. The maximum time limit is five (5) minutes with a 30 second "grace" period. Penalties will be imposed for exceeding the time limit.
5. Any oral introduction to the mime is to be counted in the overall time limit.
6. The actor will be limited to one small hand prop (i.e. a book, letter, fan, etc.) and one stage prop (i.e. chair, stool, etc.). Others may be pantomimed. Penalties will be imposed for the use of more than the specified number.
7. No stage makeup or characterized costumes (i.e. clown suits, beggar rags, etc.) are permissible, but body suits, leotards, tights, etc., may be worn.

b. Judging criteria

Pantomime will be judged on the basis of the student's skill in the pantomime arts—precise movements which clearly show both situation and action; characterizing posture and movement which indicate age, health and personality of a character; the grace of the performer.

Poetry

Judging Rules and Guidelines

a. Contest requirements

1. Literature

- (a) Will be from a published printed work of poetry, but may not be from a play. The material should be of recognized literary merit. Song lyrics, even if they are used in a play or musical, are acceptable materials for performance.
- (b) More than one poem may be performed. Poems should be related. Transitions may be used.
- (c) Material from the Internet that is not printed and published in any other media is prohibited.
- (d) A student may not use a cutting from a work of literature that the student used in THSSDL competition in any previous contest year.
- (e) The original published source of any selections used must be immediately available at the tournament, as well as a complete script of the cutting.
- (f) The literature may not be the student's own work.

2. Time

- (a) The maximum time limit is ten (10) minutes with a 30 second "grace" period.
- (b) The introduction to the selection is considered part of the overall time limit.
- (c) Penalties will be imposed for exceeding the time limit.

3. Performance

- (a) Vocal, facial, and bodily expressions may be used as long as they do not call attention to the interpreter as a performer, detract from the meaning of the material, or constitute acting or impersonation.
- (b) Contestants must use a manuscript.

b. Judging criteria

Oral Interpretation of Poetry will be evaluated on appropriateness of the selection to the event and to the contestant. Of special consideration will be the contestant's handling of the special language problems presented by poetry — meter, rhyme, imagery where applicable, and his/her ability to communicate meaning. The judge will also consider the contestant's vocal and physical control and how well the contestant handled the manuscript.

Program of Oral Interp

Judging Rules and Guidelines

A. Contest Requirements

1. Literature
 - a. POI is a program of oral interpretation of thematically-linked selections chosen from two or three genres: prose, poetry, plays. At least two pieces of literature that represent at least two separate genres must be used. Prose and poetry literature are defined within the rules for Prose and Poetry Interp.
 - b. POI may use multiple sources for the program. All selections must be verbally identified by title and author. Students are encouraged to devote approximately equal time to each of the genres used in the program. This distinction pertains to these two or three genres as a whole, not types of literature within a genre (such as fiction / nonfiction).
 - c. Transitions may be used.
 - d. Material from the Internet that is not printed and published in any other media is prohibited.
 - e. A student may not use a cutting from a work of literature that the student used in THSSDL competition in any previous contest year.
 - f. The original published source of any selections used must be immediately available at the tournament, as well as a complete script of the cutting.
 - g. The literature may not be the student's own work.
2. Time
 - a. The maximum time limit is ten (10) minutes with 30 second "grace" period.
 - b. The introduction to the selection is considered part of the overall time limit.
 - c. Penalties will be imposed for exceeding the time limit.
3. Performance
 - a. Vocal, facial, and bodily expressions may be used as long as they do not call attention to the interpreter as a performer, detract from the meaning of the material, or constitute acting or impersonation.
 - b. Contestants must use a manuscript.
 - i. The intact manuscript may be used by the student as a prop, so long as it remains in the contestant's control at all times.
 - ii. No costumes or props other than the manuscript are permitted.
 - iii. The student must address the script; however, introduction and transitional material may be memorized.
4. Judging criteria

Program of Oral Interpretation will be evaluated on appropriateness of the selection to the event and to the contestant. The student's understanding of the selections, vocal and physical control, communication of meaning and how well she/he handled the manuscript will also be considered. The student's ability to present a theme through the literature and to transition smoothly from selection to selection should be considered.

PUBLIC FORUM DEBATE BALLOT

Round _____ Room _____ Judge Name _____

Resolution _____

Before EVERY round, a coin should be flipped. The winning team has the option of choosing either the side (Pro or Con) or the speaking order (1st or 2nd) in the round. The team that loses the flip makes the remaining choice, either the side or the speaking order. After this is determined, record the names of the competitors. The team that speaks first in the debate should be listed on the left side of the ballot and sit on the left side of the room as you, the judge, look at the debaters. Please note that new arguments in the Final Focus are to be ignored. The Final Focus must be based on arguments and issues previously addressed in the debate.

PLEASE DO NOT FILL OUT THIS BALLOT UNTIL AFTER THE COIN TOSS HAS BEEN COMPLETED AND THE DEBATERS HAVE DETERMINED SIDE/SPEAKING ORDER.

Storytelling

Judging Rules and Guidelines

Storytelling is one of the oldest performing art forms and contestants should consider the vast heritage of this art. The purpose of this event is to give the student an opportunity to assume the role of a storyteller and thus recreate for the listener the delights of an interesting story. As part of this interpretation, the student should indicate an understanding of the atmosphere and/or culture from which the story came.

a. Contest requirements

1. Stories may be from published, unpublished, retold or original sources. If they are from any source other than the contestant, credit should be given to the source in the introduction. Subject matter may be humorous or serious in nature.
2. The story may be told in the contestant's own words without the use of notes. The contestant may use his/her own personal storytelling style or adopt another appropriate style.
3. The contestant may use characterization and gestures while telling the story, but the emphasis is on the storyteller and his/her art. Movement is allowed. Hand props and costumes are not allowed. The contestant may stand or be seated.
4. Time
 - (a) The maximum time limit is eight (8) minutes with a 30 second "grace" period.
 - (b) Any introduction given by the contestant shall be considered part of the overall time limit.
 - (c) Penalties shall be imposed for exceeding the time limit.

b. Judging criteria

Storytelling shall be judged on the choice of the story, the style of storyteller (which includes both oral and physical skills that enable the contestant to recreate the story in the mind of the audience), and on the ability to "tell" rather than "recite" the story.

Judging Rules and Guidelines

Scene Design Rules

- I. The student must design scenery from one of the 3 plays selected for the competition.
- II. The student must construct an original colored 3-dimensional model or create a colored perspective drawing to the scale of $1/2" = 1'0"$, showing the set and its relationship to the theatrical space. The proscenium arch and wing space must be revealed in the model, and the proscenium arch must be included in the drawing. The student may also present a collage of research limited to one standard sized poster board.
- III. At least one figure must be included in to one standard sized poster board. At least one figure must be included in the drawing or model to show proportion and scale.
- IV. The student must draw a floor plan (overhead ground plan) to the same scale (see Roman numeral II). The floor plan should include the name of the show, author, student's name and school code. No other information, such as the name of the high school, will be given.
- V. The student must present an oral justification of the design. Note cards may be used.
- VI. Only one student may be involved in the design. No collaboration is permitted.
- VII. While public speaking skills are important, the presenter's content will be the determining factor.
- VIII. Setup is limited to 3 minutes and cannot be used as part of the presentation time.
- IX. The student must present a 5 to 7 minute oral justification of the design. Note cards may be used.

Costume Design Rules

- I. The student must design costumes from one of the 3 plays selected for the competition.
- II. The student must present 5 character renderings. These may represent 5 different characters and/or follow a single character through several appropriate changes. No more than 5 renderings will be permitted. No finished costumes will be permitted, but fabric samples (swatches) are expected. The student may also present a collage of research limited to one standard sized poster board.
- III. On the display board(s), all figures must be between 7"-11" tall. Template or traced characters may be used as a base, but costumes and accessories must be the student's original work. Each rendering should be labeled with the character name and scene number.
- IV. Costumes and accessories must be the student's original work. Each rendering should be labeled with the character name and scene number.
- V. The board should be labeled in the following manner: Upper left hand corner—Name of the show and author; Upper right hand corner—Name of the character, act, and scene; Lower right hand corner—Student's name and school code. No other information, such as the name of the high school will be given.
- VI. Only one student may be involved with the costume design. No collaboration is permitted.
- VII. The student must present an oral justification of the designs. Note cards may be used.
- VIII. While public speaking skills are important, the presenter's content will be the determining factor.
- IX. Setup is limited to 3 minutes and can not be used as part of the presentation time.
- X. The student must present a 5 to 7 minute oral justification of the design. Note cards may be used.
